

Clinical Chemist Joins

Marshfield Laboratories

Daniel Hoefner, Ph.D., has joined Marshfield Laboratories as a Clinical Chemist. Dr. Hoefner comes to Marshfield Laboratories from a corporate position with Laboratory Corporation of America. He said, “It was great experience, but I wanted to get back into the lab doing the work that I love.”

Dr. Hoefner started his career as a laboratory technologist and completed his bachelor’s degree in chemistry from Eastern Washington University, Cheney. He earned his Ph.D. in toxicology from the University of Kentucky, Lexington, in 1995 and completed a fellowship in clinical biochemistry at Mayo Clinic in 1999.

Dr. Hoefner will consult with physicians regarding laboratory testing. “Ultimately, all patient lab results are based on chemistry.” he said. He will also work with physicians to develop a more comprehensive toxicology and chemistry menu at Marshfield Laboratories.

Dr. Hoefner is happy to provide consultation services for our clients. You may reach him at 800-222-5835 or by email at hoefner.daniel@marshfieldclinic.org.
