

Coagulation Specialist Joins Marshfield Laboratories

Michael J. Sanfelippo, MT(ASCP), MS recently joined Marshfield Laboratories as technical director of Coagulation Services. He has worked in the area of hemostasis for more than 30 years. He has authored 17 articles and abstracts in medical literature and given numerous presentations on various aspects of hemostasis. Michael has a BS in Medical Technology and a Masters in Clinical Pathology from Marquette University, Milwaukee, WI.

Our coagulation services will continue to expand with our new coagulation platform, Dade's BCS, and Michael's management. We are happy to announce that this spring Marshfield Laboratories will be adding the following coagulation tests to our test menu: Reptilase Time, Thrombin Time, Plasminogen Activity, Chromagenic Factor X, and Activated Protein Resistance. The addition of these procedures will provide a more complete test menu, which will better serve our clients.

Michael plans to pursue areas of research at Marshfield Clinic in the association of thrombotic disease with autoimmune disease. Michael is available to you for assistance in ordering and interpreting coagulation testing. You can reach him at 800-222-5835, ext. 7-7396, or by e-mail at sanfelippo.michael@marshfieldclinic.org.
