

Congratulations are in order for Dr. Michael Goldschmidt! He was recently awarded a fellowship in the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons. In a ceremony held on October 20th at The Royal Institution in London, England, Michael Goldschmidt was inducted as a Fellow of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons. He was awarded his fellowship for his “meritorious contribution to knowledge”. Michael has been a member of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons since graduating from the University of Glasgow Veterinary School in 1968. He has authored numerous publications in dermatopathology and surgical pathology, including epidermal and melanocytic tumors and mammary tumors.

For more information on the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons, see: <https://www.rcvs.org.uk/home/>

